

JOE "KING" KROL ADDS MARSH MEMORIAL TROPHY TO HIS LARGE COLLECTION OF ATHLETIC TROPHIES

"It was the surprise of my life. I thought the trophy went to an athlete in an individualistic sport. To become the first team player ever to win the award makes me proud and happy," smiled Joe Krol. "Wonderful, there's no higher honour he can win in sports," exclaimed pretty Mrs. Krol who has the job of shining Joe's numerous trophies. Elwood Hughes, chairman of the board, said in making announcement: "In considering the award for 1946, serious consideration was given a number of names which were reduced to Krol and the Wurtele twins, Rhoda and Rhonda, Montreal ski stars. We felt that the Argos' backfield ace was outstanding among Canadian athletes and therefore he received the award." The Wurtele twins were given honorable mention. "King Krol" is shown left in the football gear of Argonauts, the team he led to two successive Canadian titles. In the centre is Joe and his proud family. That's baby Peter on mother's knee, with Dick, who says he's going to be just like daddy, smiling out of the right corner. That's Rhonda and Rhoda Wurtele on the right. At present they are chasing the receding snows and skiing in the Rocky Mountains.
